San Luis Obispo EMS APP

If you weren't already aware, the County of San Luis Obispo EMS Agency (EMS Agency) has an app specifically designed for use by field personnel.

As of November 10th, 2022, the SLO EMS APP has been updated. The app now has the same current policies, procedures, and protocols for prehospital emergency medical care that are posted on the EMS Agency website.

To download the app: It can be found on the Apple App Store and on Google Play. It can also be downloaded from the EMS Agency website at www.slocounty.ca.gov/emsa. There's a link near the bottom left hand side of the page to download the app (picture and link below).

If you have the app already, it may have updated on its own. When you open the app, the new version will say "SLO EMS MOBILE FIELD MANUAL 2022". You may have to go into settings to manually update the app to the newest version, and if that's not an option, delete and re-download the app. The newest version will be downloaded.

Moving forward, all policy, procedure, and protocol revisions that are critical to patient care will be updated on the app along with the website. Policies that are not deemed critical to patient care will be updated either in March or September of each year. The website will remain the most up to date source of all policies, procedures, and protocols.
