ONLINE COMMUNITY MEETING FOR THE ADELAIDA AREA GROUNDWATER STUDY –
The San Luis Obispo County Flood Control and Water Conservation District is coordinating with the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) and the Upper Salinas-Las Tablas Resource Conservation District (RCD) to conduct a groundwater study in the Adelaida area west of the City of Paso Robles (see attached map for specific location). The goal of this study is to provide a better understanding of the groundwater conditions in the Adelaida area so that informed decisions can be made about managing local water resources.

The RCD will be hosting an online community meeting on Thursday, August 6, 2020 at 4:00 p.m. where USGS will provide an update on the study and detail how the community can participate in the initial data collection process. Data of interest for the study includes well construction information, groundwater level data, water use information, groundwater chemistry data, and geological data. All members of the public who can provide information regarding current or historical groundwater conditions in the Adelaida area are encouraged to attend.
